

Anika R. Khan

Vice President, Economist
Wells Fargo & Company

Anika R. Khan is a vice president and economist with Wells Fargo. Based in Charlotte, N.C., she is responsible for writing indicator reports, conducting research, and producing commentary on U.S. consumer (durables) and retail and nonresidential real estate markets, and contributes to the company's Weekly Economic & Financial Commentary.

Anika has more than 12 years of experience in corporate and investment banking, including U.S. macroeconomic analysis, sales and trading analytics, and structured products underwriting.

Her commentary is frequently cited in the Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Bloomberg News, and USA Today. She is also a frequent guest on radio programs such as the Associated Press, Bloomberg, and WSJ Radio.

Anika earned her B.S. in economics from Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University and an M.S. in economics from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

